

Brexit brings UK Pound to three-decade low vs. the US Dollar, widening the price gap between dScope Series III and other more expensive solutions!

Audio test equipment vendors in the UK are under pressure to raise prices for imported products by up to 20% following the fall of the Pound in the wake of the Brexit vote.

Prism Sound and exclusive UK distributor TTid are offering their customers the chance to purchase at the 2016 price up to the end of April 2017. Starting at just GBP 3,895, Prism Sound's dScope Series III range represents the best value available in the audio test market!

Request a quotation

Turbo-charge your productivity with a powerful, automated Audio Analyzer on every workbench!

At dScope's low cost of ownership, now every audio engineer can have a comprehensive audio analysis system on their workbench.

Avoid the distracting and inefficient sharing of tools that defeats rapid testing progress. Take advantage of easy test automation and reporting with "Auto Sequence".

Windows 10 compatible

Fully compatible from Vista, Windows 7 to the latest release of Windows 10.

Designed, manufactured and supported in the UK

Designed and manufactured in the UK - one of the world's audio technology hotspots for over 60 years - dScope Series III is more competitive than ever. The Brexit debate and the re-alignment of international currencies mean that Prism Sound can bring the massive analytical power, programmability and slick automation of dScope Series III to your bench, and every workbench, at an astounding new low price – from just £3,895.- But Hurry! Prices will rise from 1st May 2017!

Request a quotation

Learn how you can shortcut your audio product development and production test processes. Fill in some brief details at this link and we'll contact you to discuss how we can turbocharge your audio test and measurement processes!